

Sirs:

The proposal to do away with limits on broadcast media ownership must not be passed. Having a large number of independent voices allows for a level of accuracy and fair representation in reporting. If only a few large conglomerates are allowed to control the media (as has already happened in radio), the voice of the press in America will be significantly restrained.

As a concerned citizen I urge that the hearings regarding this proposal be made public, and that sufficient time is allowed for congressional debate on this important topic.
